The are two most delightful points about the new station the people here should appreciate, vs the size of the station and the nice artistic way it is painted.

MET WITH SERIOUS ACCIDENT

(From Fraser Valley Record)

On Tuesday afternoon Colin Soldoway met with a very serious accident, which resulted in his having his leg above the ankle very badly smashed and his ankle broken. He was hurriedly taken to Dr. Stuart's where he received the best that medical surgery could provide.

It appears that "Col" was crossing some shafting when his pants' leg caught in the shafting, drawing him with it. When he found he was caught he grasped at the beams above and succeeded in partly saving himself. The sawyer stopped the mill instantly.

Yesterday it was reported he was getting along nicely and that the doctor has high hopes of speedy recovery of the crushed limb.

Mr. Harry Eby has leased the premises formerly occupied by Mr. C. A. Sumner as a real estate office, and will open for business in the confectionery line.

Your duty to your town is not to have your name appear as often in the roll of fame as a philanthropist, working for the good of the town without at the same time doing something to earn the respect of the citizens.

———o———

The report of the Board of Trade which appears in this issue does not contain a report of what the fire protection committee has done Now it is a very important matter to have the town safeguarded as much as possible from the danger that fire would make were it to break out in any part of the town

Any organized scheme of fire protection would certainly be better than nothing, and it is to be hoped that the committee has not yet ended its labors in the belief that a wise Providence will not burn any part of Abbotsford.

There is a very strong impression among the fishermen on the Fraser River that something will have to be done at a very early date to protect the spring salmon or the Fraser River spring salmon will be no more. It is claimed that the fresh water seal is destroying the fish very rapidly, often taking the fish out of the fishermen's net If such be the case and there is very little doubt as to the truth of the depletion of the species, it is time that something was done by either the dominion or provincial government to do something to protect the fish and incidentally the occupation of the fishermen of the Fraser River. If a bounty were granted per head for each seal there would be no doubt but that there would be fewer seal in the Fraser River in the course of a year or two, and the Indians are undoubtedly familiar as to the breeding haunts of the fresh water seal This species of seal it is understook does not remain in the water all the time and report has it that the breeding grounds are at the head of the Pitt and Harrison A full grown seal will weigh from one to two hundred pounds. It will thus be seen that a spring salmon has but very little show of escaping; and a seal coming against the fisherman's net while making a drift is also a source of considerable annoyance

THE MARKET.

Westminster June 2—

A startling feature of the market was the failure of the long promised supply of local spring vegetables to materialize. Late vegetables to materialize. Later than usual this year the vegetable crop has been delayed by cold weather in April and May, but according to reports brought in from the district, all the crops are in good condition, and when they come, which should be within a week or two now, they will be if anything better than ever In the meantime however there is great scarcity. No lettuce or parsley were offered, the only farm truck produce offered was cabbage There were also some new potatoes which sold readily at 3 pounds for 5 cents,

The supply of eggs was fairly good and prices remained firm at 27 to 30 cents wholesale and corresponding figure retail.

The supply of veal continues good and the price firm. Of pork, there was a larger offering than for some time past, and in quality included everything from a heavy hoary headed salmon-fed boar to the very finest milk-fed young pork whic hwent as high as 15 cts by the carcass.

The fish stall showed up better than for some weeks past, one of the chief attractions being the first smelts of the season.

Beef scarce but improving is the keynote of the market so far as supplies in the staple lines of food products are concerned, for the first time in many moons a few carcasses of mutton came in, and being of a high quality, sold readily for 12 1-2 to 13 cents and there was also one carcass of beef the price of which was 11 cents par lb The quality of this latter was fair. In almost every instance it was a sellers' market, as the demand in all lines was strong the building being thronged with buyers.

There were several crates of excellent birds which sold very quickly at from $12 to $15 per doz

The following were the quotations;

THE PUBLICITY COMMITTEE
(From Fraser Valley Record)

———o———

As will be seen by reading the council meeting held last Saturday, the Mission council has set aside $150 of the municipal funds for the purpose of advertising the Mission district on the prairie. provided that $450 is raised "otherwise"

The publicity committee is a committee of the Board of Trade appointed to inquire into the best means of advertising the district and to carry out their scheme of advertising on behalf of the Board of Trade

The more widely Mission district becomes known the better it is The district can deliver the goods so far as small fruit is concerned and while the fruit that is sent from this district to the prairie provinces is one of the best advertisements the district can have, yet it is not considered by the general public as sufficient to induce the settlers to come and settle in the district and help to grow fruit—It is claimed that good fruit should befollowed by good literature to give some idea of fruit growing conditions in the district and last but not the least the beautiful climate where the fruit is grown, together with all other advantages that is possessed by the people who enjoy the noble heritage that is ours in the Fraser Valley.

It is the Boards of Trade through out the province that usually undertakes the advertising of the district, over and above what the local paper may be able to do.

The Mission District Board of Trade has not yet undertaken any advertising scheme up to the present But this year the Board in its wisdom, has thought fit to do some advertising and watch results. It requires money to do this and the money must come from —at least it should—those who will receive the benefits from an influx of new settlers While some —probably all—members of the Board will derive benefit; still there are others For this reason the publicity committee are asking the general public to donate towards the fund, and the secretary has sent out notices asking for subscriptions to the fund.

This paper is in favor of a good scheme of advertising and the work is in the hands of men who have the confidence of the Board who appointed them Therefore it behoves every citizen to come forward with his offering and help to raise the $450. It can be done in a few days. The committee besides giving their services gratis are also contributing monthly to the scheme From 50 cents a month up to $2 per month for a year in asked. Think it over and act. It is for the benefit of the community. Your dollars will come back to you, perhaps a hundred fold.

A PLEASANT SUMMER DAY'S SPORT

Last Wednesday afternoon in the backyard of the post office, to demonstrate to their friends that in their younger days they had received excellent training in the noble art of self defense, two of our friends, Bertie and Chappie, met in a square circle to show they were in the Johnson class. In fighting attire they appeared. The day was an ideal one and the green grass was soft and dry. The birds were singing their sweet songs, while the two gladiators struggled for supremacy in the ring. The men were equally matched as far as their weights were concerned, both weighing 134 pounds 5 ounces. Nine rounds were necessary to decide the contest, and at the end of the same, neither man could stand up—being very much fatigued.

The following is the light be rounds

Round 1—Bertie danced a jig and hit Chappie two inches over his head, scaring Chappie. Chappie made two jumps at Bertie and landed several short blows in Bertie's spare ribs. Chappie laid down. Bertie's round.

Round 2—Chappie shot in a quick sky rocket at Bertie's bonnet but had his sight too high, missing Bertie and landing on the ground. The timekeeper counted one, two, three four, five, six, and Chappie was raised on his feet and landed one in the solar plexus. Both reeled over and needed assistance to get on their feet. Chappie's round.

Round 3—Chappie fell over before Bertie had a chance at him, but eventually got up and landed one on Bertie's beak. This is where the first blood was shed. Bertie got mad and shouted to Chappie, "You murderous beast," and then went after him for a knockout blow. They clinched, and both fell. This round seemed to be a draw.

Round 4—Silvertips got the postmaster's wash pan out and gave the lightweights a drink and cooled them off aand the fourth round was started. They both got their second wind. Chappie started off with a left underent at Bertie's north ear. Bertie came in with a wind mill twist and landed just over Chappie's right shoulder. Chappie fell face upwards. Bertie looked around and couldn't see Chappie. Chappie could see several Berties. Chappie got up just as the timekeeper was counting time Bertie's round.

Round 5—Chapple landed seventeen short blows at Bertie's suspender buttons and then laid down for a short rest. Bertie fell, and rolled into a pile of scrap iron. Chappie had intended to land the knock-out in this round, but his gloves got tangled up in his feet tracted from this awkward position. Chappie's round.

Round 6—A whirlwind came up and both men fell. Bertie was pale so was Chappie. Chappie's round

Round 7—Bertie gave an exhibition of a sick automobile. He blew out his tire the first thing Chappie realized what had happened and endeavored to knock him out, but Chappie busted his suspenden button and time had to be called until a belt had been procured. Bertie hit Chappie on his thorax. Chappie fell. Bertie ascertained if he wanted any more Chappie answered in the affirmative. Time. Draw.

Rounds 8—Both exponents of the manly art were allout of wind and this round was not as brisk as the preceding ones. A little water poured down their necks seemed to invigorate them immensely Chappie posed and was awaiting a chance to land one on Bertie's apparatus but, missed him and fell into Silvertips arms. He was very quickly raised and shoved into Bertie that he had to do something, so he let a loop and loop glide down poor Bertie's spinal column Bertie advanced and handed Chappie a bunch of sky rockets. Draw.

in the air and landed where Chappie had stood ten minutes before Chappies was trying to get a left hook on Bertie's right ear, he ducked and he lit on his nose on the scrap iron pile. After the scrap iron had been removed from Chappie's physiogomy, the battle to a finish was resumed. Chappie struck at him with a hard blow which he held in his left hand, but missed him. He hit him several times in the same place with electrical rapidity, when they both came together and fell. Time was counted, and neither could get up. The contest was declared by the referee to be a draw.

There were about 150 present and it was one of the hardest(?) fought battles ever held in this part of the country. It is understood that one of these contests will be pulled off on Coronation Day. The men are both in training now, and a good time may be looked for. Only the absentees will be charged.

The machinery of the Kootenay Jam Factory is all connected up and Mr. Fox says he will be ready for operations by the end of this week.

It is surprising what a large amount may be placed in the Publicity Fund if all the business men will give a small amount monthly
